

Interview Document from Catching Stories (modified)

Release Form

The oral history project, Nurses Organize (working title), is a program of the Massachusetts Nurses Association (MNA) and Roslyn Feldberg. Recordings and transcripts resulting from the interviews conducted for the project will be deposited in the oral history collection of MNA, where they will be made available for historical research and public dissemination in accordance with the policies of MNA, developed in consultation with Roslyn Feldberg. Participation in the project is entirely voluntary.

I, the undersigned, have read the above and voluntarily donate to the project full use of the information contained in the recordings made on _____ and any subsequent dates, transcripts of the recordings, and other materials collected during the interview.

I hereby assign legal title and all literary property rights, including copyright, in these recordings and transcripts to the project, which may copyright and publish said materials. The information may be used for scholarly or educational purposes as determined by the project (except as noted below).
